Remote Work Policy - Norway

Policy HR-07 · Version 2026.1 · Effective 1 September 2026 · Owner: HR Norway · Rahmqvist Norge AS TEST DOCUMENT. Fictional content created to test market tagging in the Rahmqvist Assistant. It is not an actual Rahmqvist policy.

1. Purpose

This policy explains when and how employees may work remotely, what the company provides for a home office, and what is expected of everyone who works away from the office. Remote work is a privilege that depends on the needs of the team and the role.

2. Who this policy applies to

This policy applies to all employees of Rahmqvist Norge AS who are on a Norwegian employment contract, including part-time employees. Consultants and contractors follow the terms of their own agreements. Employees in other countries follow the remote work policy of their own country.

3. How many days you may work remotely

Employees in Norway may work remotely up to two (2) days per week, agreed with their line manager. Unused remote days cannot be carried over to the next week. Every team meets in the office on its anchor day, which in Norway is Wednesday. Remote work on the anchor day needs your line manager's approval in advance.

4. Core hours and availability

When working remotely you must be reachable by phone and chat during core hours, which in Norway are 09:30 to 14:30, local time. Outside core hours you may plan your own working time, within the limits of your employment contract and applicable working time rules.

5. Home office allowance

To set up a suitable home office, employees in Norway receive a one-off equipment allowance of NOK 7,500 for a chair, desk, screen or similar. Receipts must be submitted through the HR portal within three months of purchase. The company also pays an internet allowance of NOK 350 per month, paid with your salary.

6. Working from abroad

You may work from another country for up to 15 working days per calendar year, within the EEA, excluding Svalbard. Requests must be submitted at least ten (10) working days before you travel, so that tax, social security and data protection requirements can be checked. Working from abroad is never allowed on the anchor day.

7. Health, safety and equipment

The company remains responsible for your work environment under the Norwegian Working Environment Act (Arbeidsmiljøloven), also when you work from home. Complete the ergonomic self-assessment in the HR portal within 14 days of starting remote work, and report any work-related injury the same way you would in the office. Company laptops must be locked when unattended and must not be used by family members.

8. Approval and changes

Your line manager approves your remote work pattern and may change it with reasonable notice if the needs of the business change. If you disagree with a decision, raise it with your manager's manager or with HR.

Summary of the rules

Topic	Rule in Norway
Remote work	Up to 2 days per week
Team anchor day	Wednesday, in the office
Core hours	09:30-14:30
Equipment allowance	NOK 7,500, one-off
Internet allowance	NOK 350 per month
Working from abroad	Up to 15 working days a year, within the EEA, excluding Svalbard
Notice for working abroad	10 working days
Ergonomic self-assessment	Within 14 days of starting remote work

9. Questions

Questions about this policy go to HR Norway at hr.no@rahmqvist.example.