Sick Leave Policy - Sweden

Policy HR-09-SE · Version 2026.1 · Effective 1 March 2026 · Owner: HR Sweden · Rahmqvist Sverige AB

TEST DOCUMENT
Fictional content created to test the Rahmqvist Assistant. It is not an actual Rahmqvist policy.

1. Purpose and scope

This policy explains what to do when you are ill, what you are paid and how we support your return to work. It applies to employees on a Swedish employment contract. Employees in other countries follow the sick leave policy of their own country.

2. Reporting sickness

Tell your line manager before 09:00 on your first day of sickness, by phone or chat, and register the absence in the HR portal the same day. Register again in the HR portal on the day you return to work.

3. Sick pay

- A qualifying deduction (karensavdrag) applies, as Swedish law requires: 20% of your average weekly sick pay.
- Days 1-14: the company pays sick pay of 80% of your salary.
- From day 15: the Swedish Social Insurance Agency (Försäkringskassan) pays sickness benefit; apply to them directly.
- From day 15 to day 90, the company tops up your pay so that you receive 90% of your salary in total.

4. Medical certificate

A medical certificate is needed from day eight (8) of a sickness period, counting calendar days including weekends. Upload it in the HR portal. After six (6) or more periods of sickness in 12 months, HR may, after a meeting with you, ask for a certificate from the first day.

5. Caring for a sick child (VAB)

If you stay home to care for a sick child, tell your manager before 09:00 and register VAB in the HR portal. Temporary parental benefit is paid by Försäkringskassan, so apply to them as well. The company does not pay salary for VAB days.

6. Health care

The occupational health service (företagshälsovård) is free for all employees. The company's health insurance gives access to a specialist within seven (7) days and covers up to ten (10) physiotherapy visits a year.

7. Getting back to work

For an absence longer than four (4) weeks, your manager will draw up a return-to-work plan with you within 30 days, together with the occupational health service if needed.

8. Sick during your vacation

If you fall ill during your vacation, you can have those days counted as sick days instead, and keep the vacation days. Report the sickness to your manager on the first day, and provide a medical certificate from the first day of sickness.

Summary of the rules

Topic	Rule in Sweden
Report sickness	To your manager before 09:00, and in the HR portal the same day
First day	Qualifying deduction (karensavdrag) of 20% of average weekly sick pay
Days 1-14	80% of salary, paid by the company
From day 15	Försäkringskassan; company tops up to 90% until day 90
Medical certificate	From day 8 (calendar days)
Sick child (VAB)	Tell your manager before 09:00; benefit from Försäkringskassan
Physiotherapy	Up to 10 visits a year through the health insurance

Frequently asked questions

Q: I woke up ill. Who do I tell?
A: Your line manager, before 09:00, and register the absence in the HR portal the same day.

Q: Do I get paid on my first day of sickness?
A: Yes, but with the qualifying deduction (karensavdrag) of 20% of your average weekly sick pay.

Q: When do I need a doctor's note?
A: From day eight of the sickness period, counting weekends. Upload it in the HR portal.

Q: My child is ill. What do I do?
A: Tell your manager before 09:00, register VAB in the HR portal and apply to Försäkringskassan for the benefit.

Q: I got ill on vacation. Do I lose those vacation days?
A: No, if you report it on the first day and provide a medical certificate from the first day of sickness.

9. Questions

Questions about this policy go to HR Sweden at hr.se@rahmqvist.example.