Travel and Expense Policy

Policy FIN-03 · Version 2026.2 · Effective 1 October 2026 · Owner: Group Finance · Rahmqvist Group

TEST DOCUMENT
Fictional content created to test the Rahmqvist Assistant. It is not an actual Rahmqvist policy.

1. Purpose

This policy sets out how business travel is approved, booked and paid for, and how expenses are claimed. The aim is safe, comfortable and cost-conscious travel, with the same rules for everyone.

2. Who this policy applies to

This policy applies to all employees of the Rahmqvist Group in every country. A country may publish an addendum with local rates, such as per diems and mileage. Where an addendum differs from this policy, the addendum applies in that country - for example the Travel and Expense Addendum - Sweden (FIN-03-SE).

3. Before you travel

- Every business trip must be approved by your line manager in the travel portal before anything is booked.
- Trips that cost more than EUR 5,000 in total, or go outside Europe, also need your department head's approval.
- Book flights at least 14 days ahead where possible; fares booked later must be explained in the request.
- Register every trip in the travel portal, so the company can reach you in an emergency.

4. Flights and trains

Take the train for journeys under four (4) hours door to door. For flights, book economy class. Premium economy is allowed on flights longer than six (6) hours. Business class needs the CFO's written approval in advance. One checked bag per flight is reimbursed, and seat selection up to EUR 25 per flight.

5. Hotels

Book hotels through the travel portal. The nightly limit is EUR 180, or EUR 250 in London, Paris, New York and Zurich, including taxes. Choose a rate with breakfast where it costs no more. Private rentals such as holiday apartments are not allowed, because they are not covered by our duty-of-care arrangements.

6. Meals and per diems

Unless a country addendum sets a per diem, actual meal costs are reimbursed up to EUR 60 per travel day, with receipts. Alcohol is not reimbursed, except as part of client entertainment within the limits below.

7. Client entertainment

Entertaining clients is allowed up to EUR 90 per person. The expense claim must name everyone who attended and state the business purpose. An event costing more than EUR 500 in total needs your manager's approval beforehand. Gifts to clients follow the Code of Conduct (LEG-02).

8. Getting around

Use public transport where practical; taxis and ride-hailing are fine when they are safer or save significant time. Rental cars are economy class, and only when cheaper than the alternatives. Using your own car for business is reimbursed at EUR 0.30 per kilometre, unless a country addendum sets another rate.

9. Corporate card and expense claims

- Use your corporate card for business expenses whenever possible. It must never be used for private purchases.
- Submit expenses in the expense app within 30 days of your return. A photo of the receipt is enough.
- A receipt is required for every expense over EUR 10.
- Claims submitted more than 90 days after the expense are not reimbursed.
- Claims approved by the 20th of the month are paid with that month's salary.

If you lose a receipt, file a missing-receipt declaration in the expense app. This is accepted at most twice per calendar year, and for no more than EUR 75 each time.

10. What is not reimbursed

Fines and parking tickets, minibar purchases, personal entertainment, upgrades you choose yourself, laundry on trips shorter than five (5) nights, and lost luggage beyond what insurance covers.

11. Combining business and leisure

You may add holiday days to a business trip, provided the flight does not cost more because of it. Extra hotel nights and other private costs are your own, and travel insurance covers only the business part.

12. Safety and insurance

Business travel insurance covers every approved trip worldwide. Your insurance card, with the 24/7 assistance number, is in the HR portal. If you fall ill or something goes wrong, call the assistance number first, then tell your manager.

Summary of the rules

Topic	Rule
Approval	Line manager, before booking; department head over EUR 5,000 or outside Europe
Train or plane	Train for journeys under 4 hours
Flight class	Economy; premium economy over 6 hours; business only with CFO approval
Hotel limit	EUR 180 per night; EUR 250 in London, Paris, New York, Zurich
Meals	Actual cost up to EUR 60 per day, unless a country per diem applies

Topic	Rule
Client entertainment	Up to EUR 90 per person; over EUR 500 in total needs approval
Own car	EUR 0.30 per km, unless a country addendum says otherwise
Expense deadline	30 days after return; nothing paid after 90 days
Receipts	Required over EUR 10; missing-receipt declaration at most twice a year, max EUR 75

Frequently asked questions

Q: Can I fly business class to Singapore?
A: The flight is longer than six hours, so premium economy is allowed. Business class needs the CFO's written approval before you book.

Q: I lost a receipt. What do I do?
A: File a missing-receipt declaration in the expense app. It is accepted twice a year, up to EUR 75 each time.

Q: When will I get my money back?
A: Claims approved by the 20th of the month are paid with that month's salary; later ones with the next.

Q: Do I get a per diem?
A: Under this policy, meals are reimbursed at actual cost up to EUR 60 per day. Some countries pay a per diem instead - see your country's addendum, such as FIN-03-SE for Sweden.

Q: Can I stay a few extra days for a holiday?
A: Yes, if the flight does not cost more. Extra nights are at your own cost, and insurance covers only the business part of the trip.

Q: Can I book an apartment instead of a hotel?
A: No. Private rentals are not allowed, because they fall outside our duty-of-care arrangements.

13. Questions

Questions about this policy go to Group Finance at travel@rahmqvist.example.